Conference Partners and the Office of the Chief Scientific Adviser join forces on Europe's largest Scientific Conference

Ireland's award winning Professional Conference Organiser, Conference Partners, has been awarded the honour of working with the Office of the Chief Scientific Adviser to deliver Europe's largest scientific conference. July 2012 will see the arrival of over 5,000 top international scientists, business leaders, policy-makers, researchers, and science journalists to Ireland's capital for the Euroscience Open Forum (ESOF) 2012.

Conference Partners has over 13 years experience in delivering high quality international conferences to Ireland. Their portfolio includes a large range of scientific conferences and it is therefore a great honour for Managing Director, Nicola McGrane and the entire team to be a part of this prestigious international celebration of science.

Speaking about Conference Partners, the Chief Scientific Adviser Prof. Patrick Cunningham had this to say, "We are delighted to have Conference Partners on board as we work towards bringing ESOF 2012, one of Europe's top science events, to Dublin next July. ESOF 2012 promises to be a fantastic event, and is already attracting some of the top international researchers. Conference Partners' wealth of experience in delivering successful conferences will help us ensure that ESOF 2012 is the biggest and best ESOF to date."

Having taken a personal interest in ESOF 2012 since it was announced for Dublin in November 2008, Nicola McGrane had this to say about winning the contract, "We are thrilled to be working in partnership with the Chief Scientific Adviser's Office to raise the bar for ESOF2012 and to be part of a team that will showcase our rich scientific heritage to the world. Conference Partners is a company driven by passion and enthusiasm for delivering high quality conferences that we as a nation will be proud of for years to come. Winning this contract is testament to our ability to deliver, on a large scale, a comprehensive and well rounded service to our clients."

Conference Partners has also worked tirelessly on bringing other science conferences to Ireland since it was announced that ESOF 2012 was coming to Dublin. To this end Conference Partners has successfully secured a number of science related conferences and events for the coming years for Ireland.
